DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 35-51, drawn to an orthopedic implant, classified in class 606, subclass 71.
- II. Claims 52-54, drawn to a method, classified in class 606, subclass 60.
- III. Claims 55-58, drawn to an apparatus, classified in class 606, subclass 61.
- IV. Claims 59-62, drawn to an apparatus, classified in class 411, subclass 531.
- V. Claims 63-68, drawn to an apparatus, classified in class 606, subclass 86.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by an apparatus where the fixation member does not have an intermediate diametrically enlarged portion.

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require a connector having a C-shaped portion and an extension portion. The subcombination has separate utility such as a spinal rod connector or stabilizer.

Inventions I and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the washer has a flat bottom and/or a flange portion extending laterally from the a body portion of the washer. The subcombination has separate utility such as washer.

Inventions I and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the stabilizer has a flat top and/or an aperture bounded by a wall at least partially conical. The subcombination has separate utility such as a stabilizer.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Where the two inventions are process and apparatus, and the apparatus cannot be used to practice the process or any part thereof, they are independent (MPEP § 806.04). In the instant case the apparatus, i.e. Invention III, has not been disclosed to be capable of use to practice the process claim, i.e. Invention II, or any part thereof.

Inventions II and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be use in a different process, e.g. a process of using a screw wherein a washer is provide for reliving friction.

Inventions II and V are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practice by a different apparatus, e.g. an stabilizer that does not have flat top and/or an aperture bounded by a wall at least partially conical.

Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the washer has a flat bottom and/or a flange portion extending laterally from the a body portion of the washer. The subcombination has separate utility such as washer.

Art Unit: 3732

Inventions III and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the stabilizer has a flat top and/or an aperture bounded by a wall at least partially conical. The subcombination has separate utility such as a stabilizer.

Inventions IV and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as a washer. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for some Groups are not required for other Groups, e.g. the search for Group IV is not required for any of the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

II(P). Figures 8a-8e

Washers:

I(W). Figure 5a

II(W). Figures 9a-9f

III(W). Figures 10a-10e

Nuts:

I(N). Figure 6a

II(N). Figures 13a-13c

Stabilizers :

I(S). Figure 7a

II(S). Figures 16a-16c

Bolts or Screws:

I(B). Figure 11a

II(B). Figure 11b

III(B). Figure 11c

IV(B). Figure 11d

V(B). Figure 12

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for each of the different groups of "Plates", "Washers", "Nuts", "Stabilizers", and "Bolts or Screws" for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

B) The following is applicable if applicant elects Invention III:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Washers:

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for each of the different groups of "Washers", "Nuts", "Stabilizers", and "Bolts or Screws" for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

D) The following is applicable if applicant elects Invention V:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
